a. On 8 January I participated in the second meeting of the Evaluations Committee chaired by [REDACTED]. I am forced to record my embarrassed admission that I do not yet fully understand the purpose of this committee nor do I comprehend the attempts initiated by [REDACTED] to create realistic and productive discussion of the formulation of standardized evaluation procedures among the various schools of OTR.

b. On 9 January [REDACTED] brought [REDACTED] U.S. Parachute Infantry, to meet me. [REDACTED] is a regular army officer with a wide range of capabilities. In addition to being a seasoned paratrooper, he is a [REDACTED] expert and a small arms maniac. He has been a member of the U.S. International Pistol Team and has fired with the army three times at Camp Perry, Ohio. He will replace [REDACTED] on the AFB but will also be of great assistance to [REDACTED]

c. It has been arranged with [REDACTED] to have Pat [REDACTED] present at Headquarters on 3 February during the security briefing of the JOT class prior to their departure to [REDACTED]. Pat will provide a detailed 5-A type briefing which will expedite the administrative aspects of the JOT's matriculation into OC #8. [REDACTED] will also come up on 3 February to get a briefing from us on the conduct of the Clandestine Services orientation for the class which will end on 30 January.

d. On 14 January I read [REDACTED] script for the DDI film and discussed it with him from the Clandestine Services viewpoint. I must say that Ward has done a remarkable job of infusing life into what I have always believed to be one of the deadliest aspects of the intelligence business. I hope that the DDI powers-that-be appreciate his effort.

e. At your request I talked with [REDACTED] on 15 January and discussed with him the unfortunate misunderstanding concerning the participation [REDACTED] in Project [REDACTED]. Everything settled amicably, and [REDACTED] and I will discuss together the schedule of training [REDACTED] and determine definitely the times at which [REDACTED] will be physically present at the Base. [REDACTED] assured me of his full cooperation. Spencer has been informed.
